

Power Hour –

Speaker Bio: Shanna Bradfield taught students with autism for 11 years in grades K-8 at three different school districts before beginning her work with PaTTAN and Allegheny IU 3. Shanna holds an undergraduate degree in elementary and special education from Temple University and a master's degree in elementary education with reading specialist certification from Chestnut Hill College. Additionally, she has a Supervisor of Special Education certification from the University of Pittsburgh and a Principal K-12 certification from California University of Pennsylvania.

